

Commercial Litigation

Best & Flanagan represents a diverse array of corporations, businesses and individuals in connection with all types of commercial and business disputes. Our commercial litigation group handles a variety of commercial matters, including sales practice matters, licensing and registration issues, breach of non-compete and royalty agreements and replevins, among others. We draw upon decades of experience to meet our clients' needs and objectives in the most timely and cost-effective manner.

We work closely with our business law practice group to be proactive in the avoidance of commercial disputes. However, when issues arise, our team's collective experience allows us to analyze a commercial dispute from a variety of perspectives and to be both artful and nimble in its resolution. Our goal is not to scorch the earth; rather, our goal is to achieve the outcome that best serves our client's needs and goals.
